Since we had a rather small group of handlers, we did not recruit marshals. The judges carried the gun on each run.

Please make any additional comments regarding things that went well or that needed improvement at this event. Include any comments received on evaluation forms if they were distributed. The old coffee urn was missing a part so could not be used but Patty Bateman set up a hospitality table by her RV so that people could make coffee and get some snacks—very welcome!

Brian Cawthon (Tokeena Beagle Club president) stopped by to see how our trial was going and if we needed anything. Several club members were able to meet him personally. He was very welcoming.

We recognized that we still haven't quite cracked the code on how to collect the right amount of money to cover lunch costs but the club can easily absorb the deficit with direct benefit to the members so it's not a huge problem.

Two handlers entered by means not described in the premium list or sent entries well after closing that were not received in a timely way. This created hassle for the secretary and required review by the event committee to be sure that the affected handlers could run their dogs. Recommendation is to emphasize the accepted means of sending in entries and remind handlers that they are responsible to making sure that their entries are submitted properly to ensure that they are accepted. The majority of handlers followed the process outlined in the premium list.
